

Call for Entries

from

India & SAARC Nations

EFSLE [Ecosophical Foundation for the Study of Literature and Environment]

announces the entries for an

Anthology of Haiku in English Language

to be published in a

Three-Dimensional Digital Book

by

Marc Lee and Markus Kirchhofer, Switzerland

(As a part of their app MORE AND LESS- the India & SAARC addition)

Themes:

- Urbanization
- Indian species in Danger of Extinction
- Ethnic Minorities in India
- Globalization and Digitalization
- Population Growth

Judge: Kala Ramesh

Project Coordinator:

Rishikesh Kumar Singh

Important Dates:

Last Date of Submission: April 15, 2020

Notification of the selected entries: May 10, 2020

Publication of the Anthology: May 30, 2020

Please send your entries to:

infoefsle@gmail.com

Note:

*Each participant may send up to TWO original and unpublished haiku and/or senryu.

No Entry fee for the EFSLE lifetime members.

Entries are open for participants from India (residing in India and abroad) and the SAARC Nations.

Entry Fee: Rs. 200 (for Indian Residents) / $ 5 (For NRIs and SAARC Nations)

The Entry fee must be paid online. The link of the account detail is:

<http://www.efsle.org/efsle-account-detail/>

Note: Apart from publication, the first three best haiku will be awarded. All the 40 selected haiku will be published in the Anthology and also a certificate will be issued to them.

First Prize: Rs. 15,000

Second Prize: Rs. 10,000

Third Prize: Rs. 5,000

For Further details please contact:

Dr Dilip Kumar Jaiswal (MD, EFSLE): 8920206780

Or WhatsApp - 9891242768

www.efsle.org